WHEN YOU WRITE A STORY

Tips for Getting Started:

- Who will be the audience of your story?

- What is the purpose for writing your story: to entertain? To share information? To persuade?

- How will you publish your story?

- What persons, animals, or creatures could be the main characters of your story?

- What places would make interesting settings for your story?

- What kind of problems or situations could the characters in your story face?

- Which events would make a good beginning, middle, and ending for your story?
